

Information About Authors

Scott F. Aikin is Assistant Professor of Philosophy at Vanderbilt University. He works primarily in epistemology and ancient philosophy. He is the author of Epistemology and the Regress Problem (Routledge 2011) and Evidentialism and the Will to Believe (Bloomsbury 2014), and the co-author (with Robert B. Talisse) of Why We Argue (And How We Should) (Routledge, 2014), Reasonable Atheism (Prometheus Books, 2011), and Pragmatism: A Guide for the Perplexed (Continuum Books, 2008). Contact: scott.f.aikin@vanderbilt.edu.

Todd J. Barry is presently a dissertation level Ph.D. student in economic and political development through the University of Southern Mississippi. He has published articles concerning economic history and globalization, political-economy, international trade, American bureaucratic political behavior, and the comparison of different schools of economic thought. Contact: tjbarry00@yahoo.com.

Lavinia Andreea Bejan is a PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 Project, Romanian Academy, Iasi Branch, and PhD candidate in History, "Alexandru Ioan Cuza" University, Iași, Romania. Her main research interests fall into in the field of international law (human rights, humanitarian law, international criminal law), focusing on the efficiency of the international organizations and mechanisms active in the fields of international security and international criminal justice. Contact: lavinia.andreea.bejan@gmail.com.

Emanuel Copilaș is Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 Project, Romanian Academy, Iasi Branch. He is also Assistant Professor at the Political Science Department, West University of Timișoara. He is the author of Geneza leninismului romantic. O perspectivă teoretică asupra orientării internaționale a comunismului românesc, 1948-1989, (Genesis of Romantic Leninism. A Theoretical Perspective over the International Orientation of Romanian Communism, 1948-1989) (2012) and Națiunea socialistă. Politica identității în Epoca de Aur (The Socialist Nation. The Politics of Identity During the Golden Age) (2015). Contact: copilasemanuel@yahoo.com.

Iovan Drehe is currently a Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 Project, Romanian Academy, Iași Branch. His main research interest is in the history of argumentation theory, especially dialectic in the classical age of Greek philosophy. He received his B.A. in philosophy from the West University of Timișoara in 2007, his M.A. in ancient and medieval philosophy (2008) and PhD in philosophy (2012) from the „Babeş-Bolyai” University of Cluj-Napoca. Contact: drehe_iovan@yahoo.com.

Symposion, 2, 3 (2015): 419–421

Todd J. Barry

Roxana Ghițău is Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/133675 Project, Romanian Academy, Iasi Branch. She is also Lecturer at the Pre-and In-Service Teacher Training Department from “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași. She received her PhD in Education Science in 2009, from the Faculty of Psychology and Education Science, “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași. Her main research interests are professional ethics for teachers, axiology in education and teacher evaluation. She is the author of two books (The Deontological Code of the Teaching Profession, 2011 and The Ethics of Teaching Profession, 2013, both in Romanian). Contact: roxanag@uaic.ro.

Kevin Ross Diaz Nera is a philosophy graduate of Ateneo de Manila University located in the Philippines. He is currently taking his Master Degree in Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas in the Philippines. His main research area is philosophy of development and its applications in developing countries. Contact: ap.kevinnera@gmail.com

Constantin Vică is Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 Project, Romanian Academy, Iași Branch. He is also a teaching assistant at the Faculty of Philosophy and a researcher at the Research Centre in Applied Ethics, University of Bucharest. His main fields of interest are computer and information ethics, roboethics, philosophy of computer science, social and political philosophy, and the critique of intellectual property. He published several articles and studies on online trust, web search engines ethics, digital dialectics, pirate politics, morality of sex acts with robots, evolution of programming languages, green technologies and patents, and free software, authorship and intellectual property. Contact: constantin.vica@gmail.com.

Olesea Țaranu is Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 Project, Romanian Academy, Iași Branch. She received her PhD in Political Science from “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University, Iasi (in 2012). Her main areas of interest are security studies, international relations, conflict resolution and international mediation. She is the author of “The Consequences of the End of Cold War and the Configuration of the Contemporary Security Environment” (Globalization and Intercultural Dialogue: multidisciplinary perspectives, Tirgu Mureș, Arhipelag XXI Press, 2014). Contact: olesea.taranu@yahoo.com.