

Information About Authors

Ermanno Bencivenga is Professor of the Humanities and Philosophy at the University of California, Irvine. His most recent books in English are Ethics Vindicated: Kant's Transcendental Legitimation of Moral Discourse (Oxford University Press, 2007) and Return from Exile: A Theory of Possibility (Lexington Books, 2013). Contact: ebencive@uci.edu.

Jan Bransen is professor of philosophy of behavioural science at Radboud University, Nijmegen, the Netherlands. He has published extensively on questions of personal identity, autonomous agency, practical rationality, self-knowledge and love with a special interest in how to conceptualize the developmental nature of the issues associated with these concepts. Contact: j.bransen@pwo.ru.nl.

Arnold Cusmariu is a philosopher and a working sculptor. He has published on topics in metaphysics, epistemology, the philosophy of mathematics, the philosophy of mind, and aesthetics. "Baudelaire's Critique of Sculpture" (Journal of Aesthetic Education, 2015) lays out the philosophical foundations of his artwork. "The Perils of Aphrodite: A New Take on Star Theory" (Film International, 2015) applies philosophical analysis to film. Cusmariu's World Trade Centre Memorial Competition entry can be viewed at <http://www.wtcsitememorial.org/ent/entI=446704.html>. Also a screenwriter, Cusmariu's three scripts Muybridge, Fancy Free, and Light Becomes Her are available at www.zoetrope.com. He hopes to shoot a round of golf in the 60s, soon. Contact: bravo323@gmail.com.

Alexandru Dragomir finished his PhD in Philosophy at the University of Bucharest, Romania, with a thesis on the applications of Dynamic Epistemic Logics in Formal Epistemology. Between May and October 2014, he was a doctoral fellow at the Romanian Academy, Iasi Branch (SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 project). He is interested in Epistemic and Temporal Epistemic Logics, the concept of knowability and Fitch's Paradox, counterfactuals and the safety and sensitivity conditions for knowledge. Recent publications include "Two reformulations of the Verificationist Thesis in Epistemic Temporal Logic that avoid Fitch's Paradox" (Romanian Journal of Analytic Philosophy, 2014) and Some Applications of Dynamic Epistemic Logics in Formal Epistemology (Pro Universitaria, 2015). Contact: alexdragomirs@gmail.com.

Ion Iuga is currently Ph. D. Student at the Faculty of Political Science, University of Bucharest. He is engaged in a research on the subject of „political eschatology” and the idea of order in Eric Voegelin's thinking. Between June 2014 and September 2015 he was a PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 project of the Romanian Academy, Iasi Branch. The main areas of his research are: Christian eschatology and European political thinking, Eric Voegelin's political philosophy, 'political eschatology,' theology and history, spiritual and religious aspects of technology, utopian thinking, the ideology of globalization. Contact: ionutiuga7@yahoo.com.

Symposion

Roxana Patraș, PhD in Philology (2012), is a Researcher at the Department of Interdisciplinary Research in Social Sciences and Humanities, "Alexandru Ioan Cuza" University of Iași. Authored Books: Cântece dinaintea Decadenței. A.C. Swinburne și declinul Occidentului/ Songs before Decadence. A.C. Swinburne and the Decline of the West, Iași, 2013. Co-edited Books: Perspectives in Humanties. Keys for Interdisciplinarity ("Alexandru Ioan Cuza" University Press, 2015 – Supplement of Philologica Jassyensia). Between June 2014 and September 2015 she was a Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 project of the Romanian Academy, Iași Branch. Contact: roxana.patras@yahoo.ro.

Irina Rotaru is Assistant Professor at Apollonia University, Iași, Faculty of Communication Sciences. She received a PhD in philosophy in 2012 from Al. I. Cuza University, with a dissertation on the Husserlain phenomenology. During her graduate studies she benefited of several scholarships in Germany, Konstanz University. Between June 2014 and September 2015 she was a Post-PhD Fellow in the SOP HRD/159/1.5/S/133675 project of the Romanian Academy, Iasi Branch. Her research interests focus on phenomenology, philosophy of mind, cognitive science, and psychology. Contact: irina_rotaru0113@yahoo.com.